Racism and Inclusion with Divock Origi

Liverpool FC football player, Divock Origi, enjoys being part of a team with players from all over the world - from Senegal to Scotland.

Football clubs are inclusive, which means that everyone is welcome.

"In the dressing room you see the Brazilians, you see people from Guinea, you see English people. And we all come together and speak the language of football and that's what makes it so beautiful."
Divock Origi, Liverpool FC

Why do you think it is important that football and all sports are inclusive?

Complete the sentence:

Sport needs to be inclusive so that...

How do you think Divock may have felt when he experienced racism at a young age?

"I was 12. We had a game away and one of the parents of a boy in the other team racially abused me and said very hurtful stuff. I remember breaking down after the game, crying."

Choose three words.

1.

2.

3.

No room for racism

Racism and Inclusion with Divock Origi

Imagine a new child has started at your school. They feel lonely – like they are the odd one out.

What could you say to them to be inclusive and welcoming?

Draw an arrow to match the keywords to their meaning:

Racism

Inclusion

Discrimination

Equality

a. Treating everyone the same way, whoever they are.

b. When someone is treated unfairly because of who they are. Example: if someone does not get a job because they are female.

c. Welcoming and including all types of people.

d. When someone is treated differently because of the colour of their skin, their religion or where they come from.