An assembly to celebrate the joy of creativity

Do you like playing with lego, or drawing, or painting, writing, making things out of old boxes or making scrap books?

Can you describe your favourite model you have made?

Today we're thinking about the idea of creativity

Being creative means making things, and making things up. This can include any type of activity where you put things together – lego bricks, old boxes – to make something new.

We're all going to be creative this morning

We're going to think up something to do with our theme to fit each of the letters of the word CREATE. I've had a go at starting you off, how many can you find for each letter?

C - composing

R – retelling stories

E - enthusiasm

A – acting

T – tube of glue

E – in everything I see

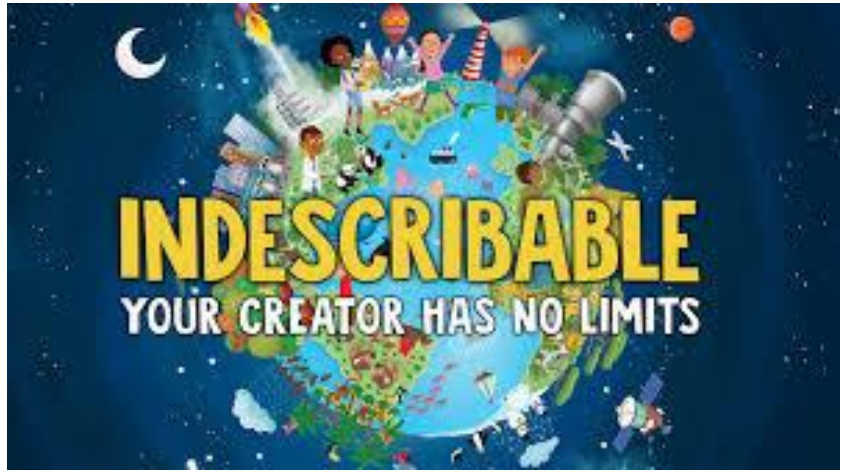

Let's consider the following words from the Bible: 'In the beginning God created…'

Many people believe that the gift of creativity is one of the most precious – to be able to make things and make things up is something that God wants all of us to do.

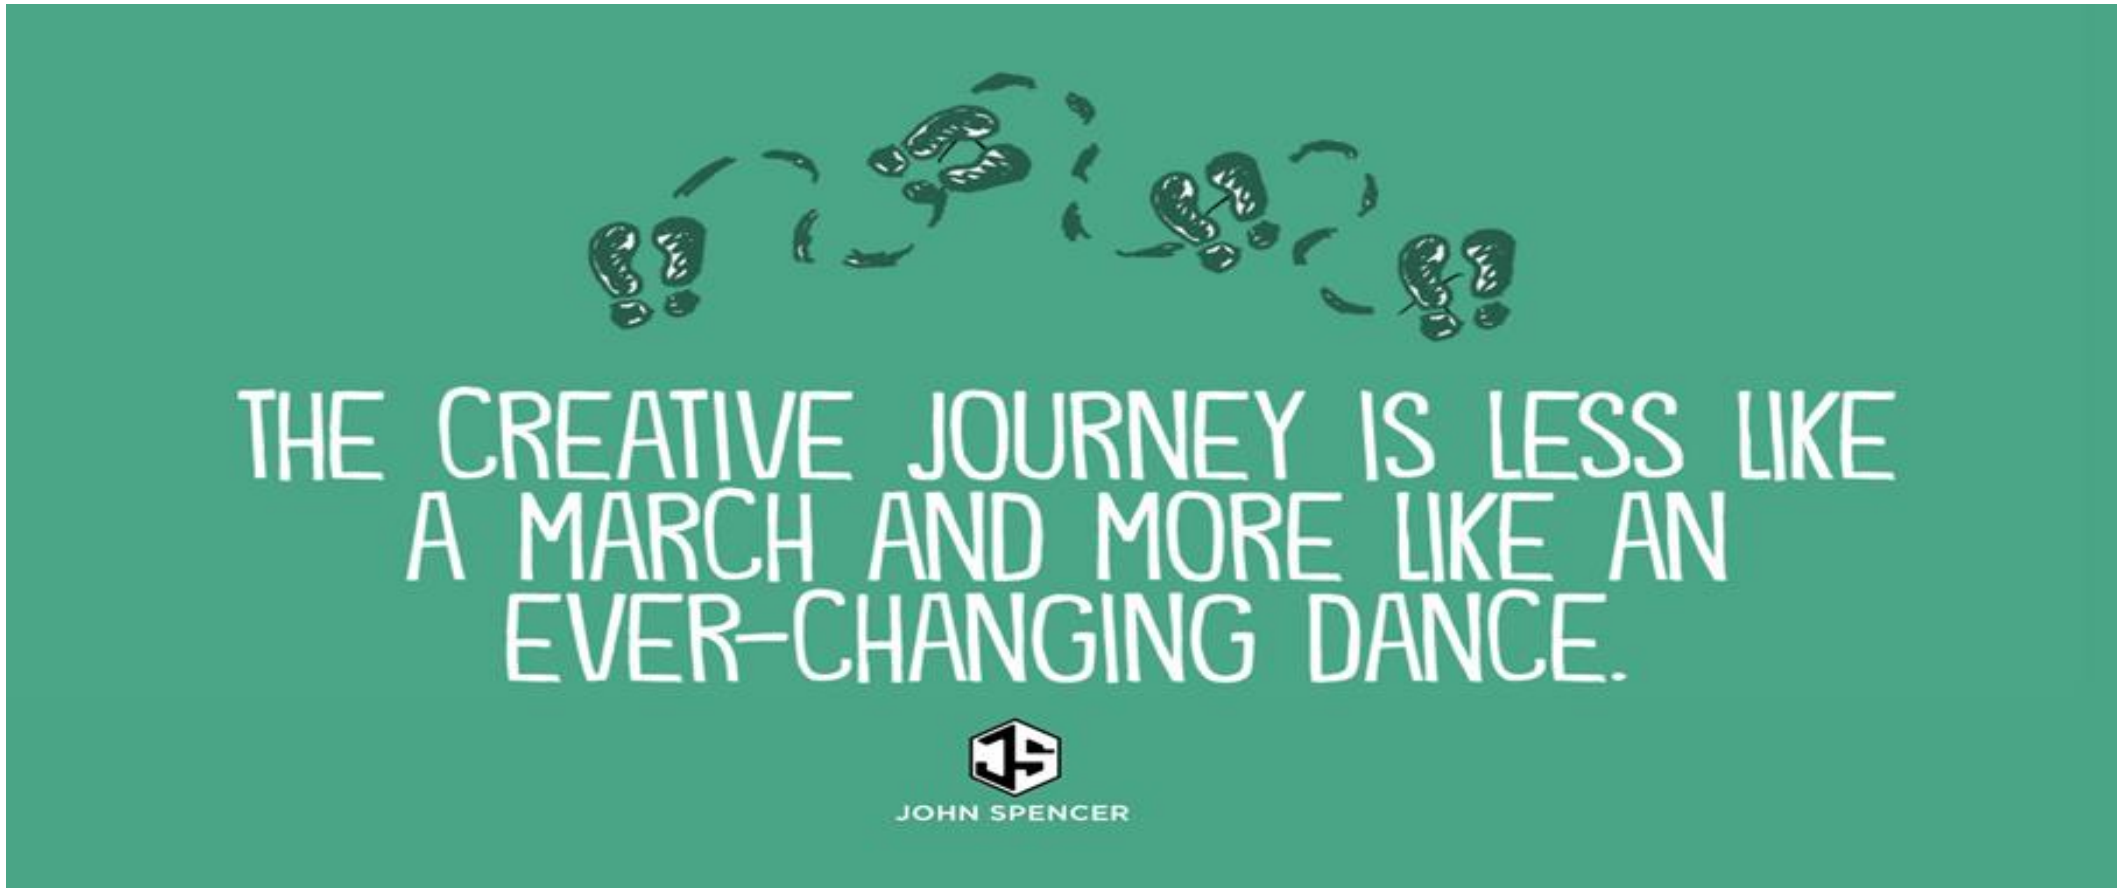

In the beginning God created.
Today we create – with words and cardboard models, songs and acting, bricks, and in so many other ways.

Dear God,
Thank you for your special gift of creativity.
Thank you that everywhere I go,
In everything I see,
Wonderful, exciting creativity is all around me.
Amen.
