Bronze 1	Silver 2	Gold 3
Write your own tongue twister like that of 'She sells sea shells on the seashore' How many times can you say it without making a mistake?	With an adult, use the web to research famous artists who use the beach for inspiration.	Make a miniature seashore garden using natural materials, such as pebbles, twigs, sand and shells.
Make a word search with all the names of the living things you have learnt about. Ask your family and friends to have a go.	Make a list of all the activities you could do at the seashore. Survey your friends and family by email or phone to identify the 'Top five seashore activities' and display the results in a pictogram or bar chart.	Make a 3-D sea animal. You can use any material you like – perhaps papier mâché, fabric, plastic bottles, clay, play dough or Lego pieces?
• Write a poem about the living things that make their home in a rock pool. An acrostic or shape poem would be fun!	Create a collage of a seaside scene using magazine pages	Make a brochure for a seaside resort encouraging people to visit next year. Maybe it's somewhere you have visited before on holiday.
Design, draw and paint a picture of a beach hut	Make a poster about keeping beaches tidy.	Decorate a frame with shells to brighten up a family picture.
Emotional wellbeing Tasks – Write a letter to a friend who you haven't seen in a while. Tell them what you are looking forward to doing with them in the future.	Set up a treasure hunt around the house. You could make a make a map for a family member to follow. Will they find the treasure?	Grab a sheet, whatever food you have, and enjoy a living room picnic or take the fun out into the backyard if you are able. You can even play that memory game at the same time: "I'm going to a picnic and I'm bringing..." Each person takes turns remembering (in order) what everyone is bringing and then adds one thing each turn.
