Go on a minibeast safari with your family. Investigate your garden to search for wriggly and crawly creatures! Take photos or draw any minibeasts you find, then use your knowledge to identify them. Create a graph to show how many of each minibeast you find, and identify the most popular habitats.	Use the web to research a weird and wonderful minibeast. Perhaps find out about the Borneo walking stick or the Goliath beetle. Make a poster to display amazing facts or create a PowerPoint with an adult.	Create a minibeast word search containing all the minibeast names you have learnt. Give it to your family and friends to solve!
Write a review of your favourite book about minibeasts.	Watch Antz, A Bug's Life or Epic with your family. Make a comic strip that shows part of the film or write a review and include a star rating.	Make a non-fiction book about minibeasts. Include a title, headings, a contents page, an index, downloaded images and drawings.
Create a table to collect information about minibeasts, including their name, body parts, legs and wings. Identify whether or not each minibeast is an insect.	Write a list of adjectives to describe what spiders look like and a list of verbs to describe what spiders do. Use the lists to write six facts about spiders and make up a story about a spidery adventure.	Make a minibeast game. Allocate each body part a number: head = 6, body = 5, leg = 4, antennae = 3, eye = 2, mouth = 1. Take it in turns to throw the dice and collect the part of the body that corresponds to the number. The winner is the person who builds the beetle first.
Download and print a large image of an insect and label each body part.	Read James and the Giant Peach by Roald Dahl, then write a description of the main characters.	Write a letter to Miss Muffet and explain why she shouldn't be scared of spiders. Look for information online and in non-fiction books to support your ideas.
