Monday	English Watch the 'Little Freak' video, https://www.literacyshed.com/little-freak.html Using the video as your inspiration, plan a character description of the young boy, the 'little freak'. Make sure that you plan out your description first, using the spider gram that we've looked at in lessons and then that will support your writing (example right).  Think about looks, personality, characteristics and family to help you with your writing.	Maths Watch the What is Volume? lesson at https://vimeo.com/566145727 Complete the questions on the 'Monday's Questions' worksheet.	Topic Either start or continue your research for a topic project. You can record your notes however you like, whether that be on word, handwritten or print outs with highlighted research. Your project is to: – Investigate how an aspect of everyday life has changed over the past 200 years and present your findings on a timeline, using images and text for clarity. Remember you could have chosen an aspect that they are most interested in. This may include areas like: • TV programmes • entertainment, • food • clothing • leisure • technology • school • cars You could also choose your own ideas and follow their interests but remember what we discussed last Thursday.
Tuesday	English Watch the 'Little Freak' video, https://www.literacyshed.com/little-freak.html Using your spider gram from yesterday, write your character description of the young boy, the 'Little Freak'.	Maths Watch the What is Volume? lesson at https://vimeo.com/566145727 Complete the questions on the 'Tuesday's Questions' worksheet.	Topic Continue your research, making sure that you find as much information as you can. This can include photos, quotes, newspaper articles and anything else that you find about your aspect of everyday life.

	Focus on the language features, up-levelled vocabulary and varied sentences to try and portray his personality and sadness through your description. Remember to include all of the techniques that we have learnt throughout the year, and develop your sentences to ensure that your writing is interesting for the reader.
